This site may contain links to other sites, and Systema Arizona is not responsible for the privacy practices of those other sites. Systema Arizona:

- Collects your personal information only with your informed consent.
- Uses your information for personalization, identification, and communication.
- Does not sell or redistribute your personal information.

This is how Systema Arizona handles information we learn about you from your visit to this Web site. The information we receive depends on what you do when visiting this site. In general, you can visit this site without telling us who you are or revealing any personal information about yourself. The user may remain anonymous in order for browsing training data and products. In order to purchase goods from our store, we ask you to identify yourself through the third-party payment processor(s). When training with us or purchasing from us, we collect certain information from you like name, address, phone number and optional survey information. Your address will be used for shipping the ordered goods and we will only call you in rare cases to resolve issues with your order. Your e-mail address may be used to notify you of upcoming events, product information, or training notices.

Does Systema.us Share the Information It Receives?

No. While we may utilize your information in order to serve you better, we will not release this information to other companies. You will not receive any SPAM from us. We simply want to make your experience better. Pure and simple.

If you have questions or comments about Systema Arizona's privacy policy and practices, would like to stop receiving information from Systema Arizona, or would like to correct or update information provided to Systema Arizona, please contact Systema Arizona by clicking on "Contact" at the bottom of each page of this site.
